

FAMILY MATTERS!
Summer University
for young people aged 20-30
Budapest, 10-14 July 2017

The National Association of Large Families (commonly referred to as NOE in Hungarian) proudly presents its first Summer University on family issues in Budapest between 10-14 July 2017.

The Summer University brings together interested young people from diverse geographical, cultural, and academic backgrounds for an intensive five-day alternative educational program on family issues. The program comprises diverse lectures, workshops and a field trip. Participants will gain an insight into the psychological aspects of marriage, mental health issues, challenges effecting marriage and family life, issues of family vs career, the importance of NGO's, the legislative framework of family policy. The multidisciplinary composition of the courses provides participants with a stimulating environment full of inspiring and thought-provoking themes.

Entertainment and recreational programs also add to the flavour of this unforgettable week in the beautiful capital of Hungary.

A pro-active attitude of participants, willingness to work hard, and open-mindedness are essential to the success of the event.

Scholarship details

The working language of the event is English, therefore a high command of English is required.
